OBITUARY.

Sir Edward Hutton.

(Reuter's Service.)

London, August 4.
The death is announced of Lieut. Gen. Sir Edward Hutton. [Lt. Gen. Sir Edward Hutton, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., was Colonel Commandant of the King's Royal Rifle Corps; Hon Colonel 4th Light Horse (New South Wales Northern River Lancers) and 9th Light Horse (New South Wales Mounted Rifles); served in the Zulu War, 1879; Boer War with Mounted Infantry 1881; in the Egyptian War 1882 and fought in the battle of Tel-el-Kebir in which his horse was killed. He was mentioned in despatches, receiving the medal and star. In command of the Mounted Infantry in the Nile Expedition, 1884-85; raised and commanded the Mounted Infantry at Aldershot, 1888-92; A. D. C. to the Sovereign, 1892-1901, and from then on to 1910 held important military appointments in Ireland and the Dominions; commanded the mounted troops, other than cavalry, on the flank of Lord Roberts' advance, and subsequently an independent column in the Eastern Transvaal, being mentioned in despatches and receiving the medal and five clasps. From 1901 to 1904 he was in command of and organized the Military Forces of Australia. He published several pamphlets on military and other matters. Deceased was in his seventy-fifth year.]

SPANISH BANK-CLERKS ON STRIKE.

Serious Position Reported.

London, August 5.
Banking in Spain has been disorganised by a strike of bank clerks for higher pay.
A Madrid message states that the Westminster Bank, one of the "big five," despite its bringing from England a number of clerks to replace the Spanish malcontents, has now closed down in consequence of intimidation. Two others have also suspended operations. The banks refuse to re-instate the strikers unless they resign from their union, which it is stated is controlled by Communists. Some disorders have occurred, resulting in twenty arrests. The Government is considering a modified form of moratorium owing to the banking confusion.

TAXATION SCHEME FOR POLAND.

Warsaw, August 5.

The Government has completed a financial scheme by Parliament's adoption of the Property Tax Bill, under which it is expected that one billion gold francs will be raised, and devoted to sanitation and restoration of Polish finances. Half the amount will be payable by farms, three hundred and seventy-five millions by commerce and industry, and the remainder by other forms of property. The tax is to be payable by six annual instalments.

ACQUITTAL IN THE MORSE CASE.

Washington, August 5.

Mr. Charles Morse, the well-known shipbuilder, his three sons, and others who were charged in February last year with illegally securing Government loans and selling Government property and converting the proceeds to their own use, have been acquitted.

GERMANY'S BAD OUTLOOK.

Berlin, August 5.

In view of the stagnation of trade and shortage of money, as well as difficulties of providing foodstuffs and raw materials, the Government announces that the ordinance regulating dealings in foreign currency is rescinded.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

CROYDON TO GOTHENBURG.

London, August 5.

The aviators Captains Macmillan and Malins, carrying out a one thousand miles test to Sweden as a preliminary to their flight round the world, accomplished a record flight from Croydon to Gothenburg, through heavy storms and gales, in seven and a quarter hours.

COMMUNIST PARLIAMENTARIANS ARRESTED.

Helsingfors, August 4.

A hundred and twenty-seven Communists have so far been arrested, including 22 out of the 23 Communist members of Parliament.

IRISH IRREGULARS.

London, Aug. 5.

The Free State forces have effected several important captures of irregulars in West Ireland during the past few days, including the leaders of rebel columns who had been harassing the Nationals for over a year.

THE RUSSIAN SITUATION.

Moscow, Aug. 3.

The United States Senators King (Utah) and Ladd (North Dakota), with Mr. Frear, member of the House of Representatives and Professor Johnson, have arrived in order to thoroughly investigate the situation in Russia.

THE TYPHOON.

Exciting Ferry Incidents.

RAINFALL NEARLY SEVEN INCHES.

The tremendous seas experienced at Kowloon during the typhoon yesterday even eclipsed those of the previous blow a week or so before. The tide was not so high, but in the afternoon huge waves dashed against the ferry wharf with such fury that the embarking and disembarking of passengers became an exciting experience and one fraught with no little danger. Residents who have lived several years in the Colony said they had never seen such high seas in the harbour, though a lady recalled worse weather some ten years ago.

The little ferry boats, keeping on as long as reasonably safe, received a terrible tossing. One moment the forward propeller was whirling round high out of the water, the next second the bows of the boat were plunged deep into the waves, the spray dashing over and completely enveloping the fore part of the vessel.

Shortly after three o'clock the red flag was changed to the blue and about a quarter of an hour later the last ferry from Hongkong came alongside. Passengers disembarked at the eastern landing stage, and owing to the high seas they had to go below to the third class and, watching their chance, dash across the gap when opportunity offered. One of the mooring ropes failed to hold. One second the seas lifted up the ferry boat right away from the wharf and the next second dashed it against the wharf, when half a dozen excited passengers would breathlessly make the leap for terra firma. A Chinese with a carrying pole had a narrow escape from slipping into the water and being crushed between the ferry and the stage, but willing hands dragged him to safety, though he lost most of his load, and many other owners of baggage had some anxious moments when they made the spring.

The Rainfall.

From eight o'clock on Saturday night until nine o'clock this morning the rainfall recorded at the Observatory was 6.65 inches, of which no less than 6.38 inches fell during the twenty-four hours ending at nine o'clock this morning. However, at six o'clock last night we were 7 inches below the average, and notwithstanding the heavy fall last night, we still need a little more to bring us up to normal. The heaviest fall was around midnight, when 0.83 inches fell in the space of one hour.

The wind was strongest just before nine o'clock last night, the squall velocity at Kowloon at 8.50 p.m. registering 68 miles an hour. The lowest barometer reading at Kowloon was at six o'clock last night, when the instrument recorded 29.16. The typhoon was then about 50 miles to the North. The lowest reading at Gap Rock was 29.24 at the same time.

Observatory Report.

A Telegraph representative who called at the Kowloon Observatory this morning was informed that the typhoon experienced over the week-end probably started on July 29th, about lat. 14 north, long. 138 east. It moved in a westerly direction until Aug. 3rd, it curved again to the west in lat. 19 and then took a north-westerly track until reaching a point a little to the south of Swatow yesterday morning. The typhoon then appears to have taken a more westerly track and at four o'clock yesterday afternoon was about 100 miles to the north-east of Hongkong, travelling west.

The barometer rose from 29.46 at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon to 29.51 at 8 o'clock, owing to the influence of the thunderstorm. During that time the wind shifted to practically every point of the compass. The wind at Gap Rock took up cyclonic circulation up to about nine o'clock on Saturday night gradually increasing in force until two o'clock yesterday, when communications were interrupted.

Ships' Experiences.

On Saturday the weather map showed very little indication of a typhoon at Hongkong. However, there was general barometer depression over the area between Tongking and the Loochoos. At the same time there was not sufficient evidence to say that the typhoon was filling up. That it was not doing so was shown by the log of the Van Cloon, which at three o'clock on Sunday morning experienced north-east squalls at a force of 10, on the Beaufort scale—a very strong gale. The Aketa Maru, a little to the south of Swatow, at six o'clock yesterday morning, reported north-east winds with hurricane force and tremendous seas, and the barometer at 28.50.

A fall in the barometer at Hongkong yesterday morning indicated that the typhoon was probably taking a more westerly course and that there would be a fairly heavy gale last night. At half-past nine this morning the barometer read 29.49, and the typhoon was probably about 150 miles to the west-north-west.

Another Forming.

Mr. Claxton told the Telegraph representative that he would not doubt be interested to learn that yet another typhoon is forming. This was forming to the south of Guam on Saturday. However, whether Hongkong will be troubled with this typhoon is not yet certain. Observations taken last night make it doubtful whether it will come our way, or whether it will pass to the north of us.

More Landslides.

Several landslides were caused by the heavy rains, the most serious being on the island road between Tytam Tuk and Stanley, where several hundred tons of earth came down and completely blocked the roadway. A message to this effect was received from Tytam by the Police Traffic Office this morning, and motorists are advised of the occurrence.

The other two slides occurred at Stubbs Road and Magazine Gap Road respectively. In both cases traffic is impeded.

No other serious incident is reported by the police.

The appearance of a small lake has been given to the western end of Happy Valley, as a result of the heavy fall of rain last night.

We learn that the landslide on Stubbs Road is rather extensive. It occurred below the Bowen Road level, near the scene of building operations.

In addition to the landslide on the island road between Stanley and Tytam Tuk, the road is rather badly breached, and it will be some time before it will be again opened. There is another landslide on this road near the brickworks. The R-pulse Bay motor buses are dropping their passengers on one side of it, and transferring them to buses on the other side. It is hoped, however, to have the obstruction removed to-night.

Regarding the Castle Peak road, which has been closed for some time, we learn that the repairs have been delayed by the recent typhoons, but if immunity from heavy rains is secured, it would be possible to arrange a temporary crossing for one car at a time within a fortnight.

Kowloon Telephone Service Interrupted.

The telephone service between Hongkong and Kowloon is interrupted, due to a breakdown of one of the Company's main cables, caused indirectly by the typhoon. It is hoped that communication will be restored to-night.

A BOMBAY CAUSE CELEBRE.

Colonel Charles Glenn Collins, who is "wanted" in Bombay on a charge connected with money due on a pearl necklace, said to have been purchased for his fiancée, was extradited from the United States last month, after a fight lasting five years, three of which had been spent in prison. He was finally arrested at New Orleans and handed over to an Inspector from Scotland Yard, with whom he spent a pleasant day sight-seeing in New York before sailing for India.

MILK THIEVES.

Man Caught in Kowloon.

Milkmen of the Dairy Farm Company going the rounds for the last few weeks have had a number of larcenies practised on them. It has been the practice to leave their baskets outside the entrances of residences in Kowloon whilst they went in to deliver the milk, but when they came out they often discovered that a thief had been busy during their absence and stolen various bottles of milk. The supposition, which has now turned out to be correct, is that these milkmen were followed by the thieves awaiting the opportunity to carry out the thefts without detection. Working on this theory, a private detective of the Company the other day followed one of the milkmen to No. 2, Jordan Road, and was in time to grab a thief as he appeared on the scene. The latter had just laid his hands on a couple of bottles, which were to-day produced as evidence in Court. Sentence of six weeks was passed.

THE MOTOR TRIALS.

Some Further Gifts.

We are pleased to announce in connection with the forthcoming local motor contests that the Standard Oil Company has generously offered to supply free "Jockey" spirit to competitors who wish to use this well-known brand.

A prize for one of the events has just been offered by Messrs. Robertson, Wilson and Co., Ltd., in the form of a dozen Lodge plugs. These plugs are known to all motorists, and it is worthy of note that in the first side-car T.T. race ever held, Lodge plugs were used by Mr. F. W. Dixon, the same rider using a Lodge on his Indian machine which finished third in the Senior T.T. Lodge plugs were used by the winner of the first air race held in England this year, and also by the competitor who secured second place.

NEW BLUE FUNNEL LINER.

The "Sarpedon" in Port.

The new Blue Funnel passenger liner Sarpedon is in port on her maiden run to the East. This afternoon a reception is being held on board to give residents an opportunity of seeing over this fine vessel.

The Sarpedon, which is under the command of Captain J. Riepenhausen, is 17,218 tons displacement and 11,321 tons gross register. Her length is 517 feet 6 inches, breadth 62 feet 3 inches, depth 48 feet 3 inches. She is a most up-to-date liner, replete with every comfort and convenience, including smoke room, verandah cafe, lounge, children's room and barber's shop. The vessel has accommodation for 157 passengers, including ten cot-bedsteads on the promenade deck forward. The dining saloon is on the upper deck.

NURSING HOME THEFT.

A Stolen Wrist Watch.

A foki of the Yee Wo Nursing Home at Wongneichong was sent to prison for six weeks by Mr. J. R. Wood, at the Police Court this morning, on conviction of a charge of stealing a wrist watch from a nurse at the Home.

The statement of the prosecuting police officer, Inspector Aris, went to show that the watch had been placed on a window sill in the operating theatre just before an operation. When later a servant was sent to look for it, he found it had disappeared. Enquiries started amongst the staff revealed that the foki in question was missing from the Home. He turned up in the afternoon, and eventually was persuaded to reveal the whereabouts of the watch. It had been broken and had been taken by the foki to a watchmaker's shop at Queen's Road Central to be repaired.

SUNNING RAILWAY TROUBLE.

Canton Official Resigns.

The following has been forwarded to us with a request that it be published "in justice to the person referred to":—
It is learned from authoritative sources that Mr. Wu Hok Fong, Vice-Minister of the Ministry of Reconstruction in Canton, has tendered his resignation, but Dr. Sun has not been pleased to accept same. The cause of his tendering his resignation is the blame that has been unjustly attached to him in connection with the confiscation of the Sunning Railway. The order for confiscation was actually issued by Tan Yiu Hoi, the former Minister of Reconstruction, on the eve of his departure for Hunan, his native province. Naturally, since the order was served after the departure of Tan, the officials and shareholders of the railway company attributed the responsibility of the order to Mr. Wu, as he was Acting Minister during the absence of Tan, and pending the arrival of the new minister.

Being aware that confiscation of the railroad would create trouble, Mr. Wu resigned immediately he learned of the intention of the authorities. That was about two weeks ago. Dr. Sun refused to accept his resignation, but Mr. Wu has insisted that he be relieved of his post as he does not wish to be associated with any action of the Government that would create friction between the people and the government, particularly in the case of the Sunning Railway, he being a native of that district.

'THE LATE PRESIDENT HARDING.'

San Francisco, Aug. 3.

The train bearing the late President Harding's remains left to-night for Washington and will arrive on Tuesday. The coffin was escorted to the station by soldiers and sailors (a band playing the Funeral March), and also notables, including Mr. Dougherty and Mr. Hoover, through bareheaded, tear-eyed crowds lining the route. A simple service was previously held, at the conclusion of which everybody filed out, leaving Mrs. Harding for a few minutes alone with the dead.

The proclamation previously mentioned declares that the nation has lost a wise and enlightened statesman and the American people a true friend and counsellor whose public life was inspired with a desire to promote the best interests of the United States and the welfare of all its citizens.

It adds that his private life was marked by a gentleness and brotherly sympathy. By the charm of his personality he made friends with all who come in contact with him.

Mr. Hughes, by direction of the President, announces the closing of all Government departments in the afternoon from Tuesday to Friday.

London, Aug. 4.

A memorial service to President Harding will be held at Westminster Abbey, probably on the day of the funeral.

Brussels, Aug. 4.

The Belgian Court has gone into mourning for a week on account of President Harding's death.

Manila, Aug. 3.

Immediately the news of the death of President Harding was received, the American Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution expressing, to Mrs. Harding and the Secretary for War the condolences of all Americans in the Philippine Islands. All the flags were half-masted, and Governor-General Wood requested all Government offices and business offices to remain closed to-morrow as a token of sorrow and respect. Governor-General Wood cabled Mrs. Harding and the Secretary for War his own and the community's deep sense of their great loss. He stated that the death of the President is a grave national calamity, and brings with it a feeling of the deep sorrow of every American. It deprives the nation in this critical period of the world's affairs of that leadership which has shown itself to have been devoted to peace and a better understanding among the nations, and to Governor-General Wood personally it brings a sense of personal loss and sorrow.—Daily Bulletin.

Tokyo, Aug. 3.

All circles were greatly shocked at two o'clock this afternoon by the announcement of the death of President Harding after the most encouraging bulletin indicating progress received earlier. The evening papers publish lengthy obituary notices. The news was immediately communicated by the Embassy to Ambassador Woods, who is at present at Nikko, and is expected to return to the capital this evening. Official information of the sad occurrence has not yet been received.—Daily Bulletin.

Washington, Aug. 4.

Mr. Coolidge has arrived and taken up quarters at an hotel. He conferred with Mr. Hughes and Mr. Curtis, Chief Republican Whip. He is unlikely to announce important administration orders until after the funeral of President Harding.

Mr. Coolidge's first official act was to sign a proclamation making Friday, the day of President Harding's funeral, a day of national mourning. Mr. Coolidge expressed a desire that the present personnel of the Administration should continue in office indefinitely. He sees no reason for interruption in any negotiations by delegates appointed by President Harding for carrying on with foreign governments.

New York, Aug. 4.

The prevailing comment on Mr. Coolidge's accession to the Presidency is one of complete confidence that he will fulfil the position with the highest credit. The papers dwell on his integrity and industry, excellent intellectual equipment, his careful and sound judgments and his courage to enforce decisions. The anti-Administration organ Morning World says: He will have American sympathy and support irrespective of party ties.

SOVIET REPRESENTATIVE TO BRITAIN.

London, Aug. 4.

According to the Daily Express correspondent at Moscow, the British representative called on the Soviet Foreign Office and presented a communication on August 1st, two hours before M. Rakovsky was due to start for London to resume his new duties, the outcome of which was that M. Rakovsky's departure was postponed.

The Note presented to the Soviet Foreign Office asks for a full explanation as to whether reports as regards M. Rakovsky are correct. It is understood that the appointment to London meanwhile will not be accepted.

THE SINGAPORE SCHEME.

Paris, Aug. 4.

Discussing the Singapore scheme, the Temps declares that the base is intended for protection against Japan, but it is not Australia or British commercial interests in China which it is desired to protect, but rather interests west of Singapore. The present aspect of Asia gives Britain good cause to be anxious, and she needs to erect a barrier between the two halves of a continent which is in ferment. The Temps adds that Britain, in order to send her fleet to Singapore, must be mistress of the Mediterranean, which does not simplify the problem of Tangier and the future of Rhodes.

OIL STRIKERS RETURN.

Rangoon, Aug. 4.

The strikers at Yenanyang oilfields, who came out on July 23, returned to work to-day.

TENNIS LEAGUE.

Presentation of Prizes.

Members and committee of the Indian Recreation Club were at home to representatives of various sporting clubs and friends at the Club's ground at Sookumpou on Saturday afternoon when the shield and medals for the winners in the "A" Division of the Tennis League were presented by Mrs. Grace, wife of the Commodore. The ground presented a pleasing appearance with the display of a profusion of flags and bunting at the Club house and also at an impromptu stand erected on the side of the tennis courts for spectators of an exhibition tennis match between the winners of the "A" Division and a team representing other members of the same division. The match was played before the distribution of prizes. For the second year in succession the Indian Recreation Club had won the shield of the senior division. Their team's prowess was further demonstrated on Saturday when they beat "The Rest" in the exhibition match by one point.

In addition to the tennis trophies, prizes won by members of the I. R. C. in the Cricket League were also presented by Mrs. Grace, the ceremony being witnessed by a large gathering.

Before the prize presentation Mr. J. C. Fletcher, Secretary of the Tennis League, called upon Mr. J. R. Wood, Vice-President of the League to address the gathering.

Mr. Wood said he was sure all would agree with him that they were very fortunate in carrying out the engagement with such slight interruptions as there had been from the weather with the typhoon approaching the Colony. The only regret which he and others felt during the afternoon was at the absence of Dr. Forsyth, President of the League, who should have given away the Shield, of which he was the donor. Dr. Forsyth had done a great deal for the League. Referring to the good work performed by Mr. Fletcher as Secretary of the League, Mr. Wood said that except those behind the scenes he did not think anybody knew the valuable services rendered by the Secretary during the season. On behalf of all those present Mr. Wood thanked the Indian Recreation Club for the generous and hospitable way in which they attended to the visitors. He was sure all members of the Tennis League present would join him in congratulating the Club heartily for having won the Shield for the second time in succession. In both seasons the Club had unbroken records, suffering no defeats; and this year established a record by beating The Rest team in the exhibition match. Their win was well deserved. The Club's success was all the more gratifying by reason of the fact that it was accomplished at a time when the tennis form was very good. Tennis players in Hongkong had done something which followers of other branches of sports had not been able to do; they won the Interport laurels with fair consistency. In fact they had never been beaten by Shanghai.

Mr. Wood said the Tennis League was one of the few institutions in Hongkong which placed people of all nationalities on the same level. There had been a new addition in the membership this year in the Netherlands Tennis Club and he hoped that shortly the Police Recreation and the Japanese clubs would qualify for membership by obtaining three grass tennis courts. Mr. Wood concluded by inviting Mrs. Grace to present the prizes and congratulating Commodore Grace and Paymaster Comdr. Worthington on winning the Hong Doubles in the Hongkong Cricket Club's tournament. (Applause)

TENNIS LEAGUE.

After the tennis shield and medals had been presented Mr. U. Rumjahn said that owing to a slight indisposition of the President of the Club, Mr. J. H. N. Mody, the pleasant duty of welcoming their many friends devolved upon him as Chairman of the Committee. On behalf of the Indian Recreation Club he thanked those present for honouring the Club with their presence. He took the opportunity of welcoming the Commodore and Mrs. Grace to the Club. They were all aware that the Commodore was very keen on sports. Only a few days ago Commodore Grace and his partner Pay. Lt.-Com. Worthington won the Hongkong Cricket Club Hong Double Tennis Tournament and he congratulated them on their success (Hear, hear).

As Mr. Wood had remarked, it was a pity Dr. Forsyth, the President of the Hongkong Lawn Tennis Association, was away on holiday. He was largely responsible for the encouragement of sports in the Colony. Mr. Rumjahn went on to thank Mr. Wood for his kind and complimentary remarks concerning the Indian Recreation Club. He was glad to inform them that in sports they had again met with success. In cricket they were bracketed third in last season's First League and secured first position in the Junior League. In tennis they had again won the Championship of the "A" Division of the League. The championship of the "B" Division of the League had not been decided. Giving a few words of advice to young players of the Colony, Mr. Rumjahn pointed out that the value of sports was not in success, but on the contrary it was in occasional defeats and mainly esprit de corps. "Learn to take a defeat sportingly!" he said. "In games take no mean advantage over your opponents, but play the game as it should be played. Cooperate with your fellow members and take the advice of your Captain or leader." Mr. Rumjahn concluded by thanking everybody concerned for their help in making the function such a success. (Applause.)

The Cricket prizes were then given away by Mrs. Grace, who at the end of the function was presented with a bouquet and accorded three hearty cheers.

The following were the individual prize winners.

Tennis.

THE RUHR AND REPARATIONS.

London, Aug. 4.

The French and Belgian Governments have issued the text of their replies to Britain.

The Belgian reply to the British note, the issue of which cancels the desire previously expressed at Brussels that publication be delayed, says that with regard to passive resistance German ordinances thereon must be withdrawn, but Belgium does not refuse to discuss reparations even if the Ruhr continues to manifest disapproval of occupation, provided the latter has not resulted from Berlin orders. Following the cessation of passive resistance, Belgium is willing to grant an amnesty to certain Ruhrite offenders, except saboteurs and the like. Belgium is willing to discuss with France the gradual modification of occupation and its limitation to measures indicated to Germany in January. The reply believes it will be unjust to the Allies to throw on them the costs of reparation due by Germany, who is devoting enormous sums to strengthening industrial development, and would soon be enabled to compete victoriously with the Allies and prepare military revenge. Belgium does not object to Reparations Commissioners being assisted by experts, subject to there being no breach of the Treaty of Versailles, but would like to understand the British reference to "impartial experts."

A new French and Belgian move is foreshadowed. The Matin states that representatives at Dusseldorf have been authorised to listen to proposals of the Rhine industrialists and study the possibility of a new regime with the object of re-establishing productive activity in the basin. The paper adds that since the inter-Allied solutions have been deferred and Berlin obstruction remains, it is to Essen, Cologne and Mayence that the problem must henceforth be discussed by all interests.

Tokyo, Aug. 4.

Considering a formal reply to the British note inopportune at the present juncture, the Japanese Government has instructed Baron Hayashi to express orally the hope that in view of the important bearing of reparations on the Ruhr questions, not only on the stabilization of Europe but also the peace of the world, an amicable settlement will be reached of those differences which are at present apparent between the British proposal and the French and Belgian desires, and urges the Powers most immediately concerned to use their utmost conciliatory endeavours to reach an agreement.

GERMAN DRINK SMUGGLER TORPEDOED.

Christiania, Aug. 4.

A Norwegian torpedo boat torpedoed and sank a German drink smuggler in Christiania Fjord. Two of the German crew escaped. One was arrested.

OPIUM SHIP SUNK.

Batavia, Aug. 4.

It is reported from Koeteradja that the British steamer Ferrara, carrying a cargo of 300,000 pounds of opium, has been burnt out and sunk near Rondo. The crew is safe and has been landed at Sabang.

HE GAVE HIS BLOOD.

A Soldier's Battlefield Sacrifice.

Much interest was aroused in England not long ago by an offer of £20 to any healthy person who would sacrifice a pint of blood to save a child's life. Blood transfusion is by no means uncommon, and there are many cases that are never brought to the public notice. One instance that has come to light of a soldier who gave two pints of his blood to save a comrade's life is well worth chronicling.

Private F. W. Warr, who now lives at 2, Wheatley's Cottages, South Street, Crawkorne, Somerset, has in his possession interesting documents relating to the event. One from the Officer commanding the 19th C. C. S. states that he had volunteered as a donor of blood, and gave two pints. Later Warr was sent to join the 3rd Somerset, and the commanding Officer of that Battalion received from the 19th C. C. S. the following:—"I beg to inform you that No. 27,709 Pte. F. Warr gave his blood for direct transfusion on October 30th, 1917, and thereby saved the life of a severely wounded comrade."

The story of Pte. Warr's experience should be interesting to sufferers from violent headaches, indigestion, nerve troubles, and rheumatism; which in almost every instance spring from one source—poverty of blood. When he first crossed to France, Pte. Warr began to suffer from racking pains in the head, which were so violent as to leave him in a collapsed state. In his own words, he "tried all sorts of powders, but got no relief. Then one day," he said, "a comrade told me of the value of Dr. Williams' pink pills, so I wrote and asked my wife to send me a supply. Upon taking them I obtained quick relief, and the pills completely restored my health. When I was wounded for the third time, and was asked to volunteer to give blood whilst lying in hospital I willingly decided to do so. I am very pleased to know that the giving of a quart of blood saved another soldier's life, and am sure that it was the result of taking Dr. Williams' pink pills that enabled me to give good blood and plenty of it. After giving the blood I was naturally somewhat weaker, but I was quickly shipped to England, where on arrival I got another supply of Dr. Williams' pink pills, and after I had taken these I felt myself again. They soon replenished my blood supply, and set me up in health."

Of dealers everywhere, Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people are also obtainable post free at $1.50 per bottle $8.00—for six bottles, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kings Road, Shanghai. Readers who have reason to suspect that their own blood is impoverished or impure will do well to follow Pte. Warr's example and begin a course of the world-famous blood and nerve tonic without delay.

PALESTINE EXPLORATION.

Interesting Discoveries.

The British School of Archaeology, which has excavated Tanur, the classical Dor or Dora (which lies about eight miles north of Caesarea), traced late Phoenician walls and discovered a sea gate and stairway and numerous indications of a great and ancient city dating like Aescalon, from the Hyskos period. There are remains of the late Bronze Age with affinities to the Cypro-Phoenician early Iron Age, and generally similar to Philistine work, but differing in details.

The British school is now excavating Harbij (East of the Dead Sea), supposed to be the ancient Harosheth.

Interesting discoveries have been made by the mission which is making excavations at Beisan on behalf of the University of Philadelphia.

Mr. Fisher has uncovered substantial Egyptian buildings, with evidence of five centuries' occupation, and two large clear monumental inscriptions of Seti I. and Ramesses II. respectively. These inscriptions indicate the military dispositions of known divisions of Egyptian troops, and give references to neighbouring cities on both sides of the Jordan.

Beisan, the Beth-Shean or Beth Shan of Old Testament and the Beisan of the Crusaders, lies at the south-eastern end of the Valley of Jezreel, not far from the Jordan and 430ft. below the level of the Mediterranean. It is on the main route from Egypt, through Palestine to Damascus and the Euphrates.

THE LATE PRESIDENT HARDING.

Local Condolences.

The Consul-General of America in Hongkong has received a large number of expressions of regret from leading residents of the Colony on the death of President Harding. Captain Neville, Aide-de-Camp to the Governor, called on Mr. William Holt Gale on Saturday and presented His Excellency's sympathy, contained in the following note:

Government House, Hongkong, 4th August, 1923.

My dear Consul-General,—I have instructed my aide-de-camp to call upon you officially this morning to express the great regret with which I have received the news of the sad death of President Harding.

On behalf of the British community here, I desire to express our sympathy with the American people in their great loss.

Believe me, —Yours sincerely, (Signed) R. E. STUBBS, Governor.

Amongst other callers at the Consulate were Major General Sir John Fowler, Sir William Reed-Davies (Chief Justice), Commodore Grace, The Hon. Mr. A.G.M. Fletcher (Colonial Secretary), Lieutenant Commander Worthington (Naval Secretary), Captain Humphrey, A.D.C. to General Fowler, The Consul General for Portugal, the Consul for Peru and the Vice Consul for Peru, and the acting Consul for Siam. Notes and cards expressing regret were received from many others.

WHY NOT?

The Scotsman had called the Englishman to account for having referred to the English Army. "British Army, if you please," he insisted. Later in the evening, when the two were at a sing-song together, the highlander called upon the other to suggest a song. "Right-o!" cried the Englishman; "let's have the 'Blue Bells of Britain.'"

The Telegraph.

HONGKONG, 6th August, 1923

THAT PETITION.

Hongkong's petition for Constitutional Reform seems to be ill-fated. It was drawn up and circulated locally more than two years ago, well over fifteen hundred names being secured in its support, but the latest development is that only eighty-three of these are to count, as the others lacked the addresses of the signatories. Thus, so far as the House of Commons is concerned, the petition merely means that less than ninety people have asked for the reforms advocated. That is a thousand pities, for, whatever views we may hold on the subject, it is a fact that the demand for reform secured the approval of more than fifteen times that number.

It was in 1922 that the petition was first presented to the House of Commons by Colonel John Ward, but it had to be sent back to Hongkong because it did not comply with the necessary conditions, in that it was printed instead of being written, and the signatures were not, as required on one continuous sheet. Then there was further delay caused by Colonel Ward's illness, and also by the fact that the Hongkong Government had to be consulted by the Home authorities on account of the petition not being sent through the medium of the former. Less than a month ago, the petition was again presented to the House of Commons. We had all hoped to hear the result of the agitation very soon, and were waiting anxiously to learn of our luck, or otherwise, when Saturday's telegram came to hand showing that another point had been overlooked. The absence of the addresses does not, of course, invalidate the petition, but it does mean that there are only eighty-three signatures which can be regarded as being in order. What effect that will have on the chances of the demands being conceded, we do not know.

In calling to mind the vicissitudes of this petition, we cannot escape the conviction that the thing has been badly bungled from the very start. It should surely have been possible to have secured full and exact data as to the correct method of drawing up a petition before it was sent off, especially since its sponsors included legal men and one actual M.P. What is more, Col. Ward, when he returned the petition to Hongkong because it was not quite in order, enclosed a copy of an extract from official orders making it quite clear that the prayer of the petition should be followed by "signatures with addresses." But the then Hon. Secretary of the C.R.A., in returning it, intimated that the address "Hongkong" was considered sufficient, any further details being obtainable from the Far East Directory. Whether this was on the instruction of the Committee of the C.R.A., we do not know, but we should have thought that the previous experience would have taught those in charge of the petition to leave no further room for doubt regarding the correctness of the style of the petition. These set-backs which have been experienced are very irritating, besides having the effect of holding up the whole movement to a measure of ridicule. All this is most regrettable, but we do hope that we shall soon know the fate of the petition, one way or another, before very much longer. If we don't, many of the signatories may have left the Colony for good before the decision is made known, and the remainder will have forgotten all about it.

The Preparations Deadlock.

We cannot be accused of undue pessimism if we express the view that the preparations issue is at a deadlock and that the prospects of a successful issue to the present discussion are remote. It is obvious that the French and Belgian replies to the British memorandum do not advance matters much further, and that in consequence the Entente relations are somewhat strained. It seems to us that further conferences will be futile, unless the decision be left to some absolutely impartial tribunal, such as a committee of delegates appointed by the neutral Powers. If some such procedure is to be adopted, it will have to be quickly set on foot, for Germany is in a serious position, like a drowning man who has sunk twice already and if not rescued might shortly sink for the last time. We recently suggested that Britain might eventually find it more economical, in view of the turn events have taken, to cut out all expectation of further German indemnities, just as a tradesman would write off his bad debts, and it is interesting to find now that this is apparently the view of the Labour party, as voiced by their leader in the Opposition, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald. Obviously the time has come for Britain to take a final, clean-cut decision, to declare it to the world, and to hold by it, instead of continuing to dilly-dally on the fringe of events. A definite statement of our Government's policy would save the Empire from further nerve strain, and dissipate any false notions that might still be entertained by certain foreign countries.

Hongkong in Disgrace?

There may or not be more "highbrows" in the North, but the fact remains that the theatres there can be filled when the sole attraction is a well-known musician. In Hongkong, the experience of famous pianists and cellists has not been a happy one.

"No Quorum for the Eggs Bill."—Sitting Abandoned, in the House of Commons. It looks as though not much is likely to be hatched, comments a Home paper.

On June 27, at St. Mark's, Surbiton, Edmund Leslie, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lena May, East Molsey, and grandson of the late Hon. Charles May, Chief Magistrate, Hongkong, was married to Margaret Gray, daughter of Mr. Harry Gray, Upland, Surbiton.

At Willis's Rooms last month a pair of early Chinese pottery figures of eagles standing on rocks, with Louis XV. ormolu mounts, went at £548. Also a Chinese famille-rose Mandarin jar and cover fetched $60 gns., and a Chinese Mandarin jar enamelled with Ho Ho birds, and a companion lot, went at $20 gns. and $210 gns. respectively.

Sir Skinner Turner, giving judgment in the insurance case in H. M. Supreme Court, Shanghai, has refused Messrs. Little Bros. motion for exemption from liability to make the necessary deposit provided for in sections of the Fire and Marine Insurance Companies' Ordinance on the ground that since July, 1922, the company had ceased to do insurance business and does not intend to do such business in future.

GOLF.

Happy Valley Championship.

The championship at Happy Valley played for on Sunday, resulted in a win for Mr. H. R. Buckland. Considering the weather, the leading scores below reflect great credit on the players:

Mr. H. R. Buckland, 81 and 83 equals 164.

Mr. A. B. Stewart, 85 and 80 equals 165.

Major Gandy, 84 and 83 equals 167.

Mr. B. B. Crawford Morgan, 81 and 86 equals 167.

Lieut.-Col. B. A. Hill, 82 and 87 equals 169.

Happy Valley Course Closed.

The Happy Valley course will be closed until further notice. The competition for to-day (August 6th.) has been postponed until next Sunday. The Ladies' Medal competition will be played on Thursday next (August 10th.), weather permitting.

Within recent months, we have commented on the meagre audiences that have gathered to welcome "stars" like Leopold Godowsky, and others who have wandered to our shores. The word seems to have gone round, and apparently Hongkong is to be given the "go by" in future—until such time as someone hopefully ventures to give us another trial, and chance. Several noted musicians have recently been visiting Japan and North China. Presumably they enquired about the prospects of coming a little further south, and were warned not to try it. To mention only one notable whom we might have been able to welcome, there was Fritz Kreisler, whose talent delighted people up North in their hundreds. Now we learn that Jascha Heifetz, held by some to be the greatest living violinist, is shortly to be in Shanghai. We should like to hear Heifetz playing here, and to see whether he would succeed where others have failed. It seems, though, that he, like other "stars," will not rise above our horizon and shed his light upon our ungrateful souls. Perhaps something can yet be done to alter this apparent ban on Hongkong. Otherwise we shall be convinced that we are in disgrace.

OUR BOOKSHELF.

Some Literature of the Period.

Sir George Buchanan publishes his memoirs, which, it might be recalled, have been much discussed by those who learned of their preparation. The distinguished author has also been criticised a great deal by one of the old Russian aristocracy for his alleged participation in domestic politics at Petrograd during the war. "My Mission to Russia, and Other Diplomatic Memories" (two vols., Cassell, 30/- net), is certainly a very interesting work. The author's connection with the diplomatic service goes back to 1876, and he might almost claim to have been born into diplomacy, his father having been the Minister at Copenhagen at the time of his birth. During his long period of service Sir George has represented his country in many different parts of the world; but these volumes are concerned chiefly with two of his major appointments—as agent and consul-general at Sofia and as Ambassador in Russia. At Sofia he naturally came into very close contact with the Bulgarian ruler, Ferdinand, and he gives a vivid picture of this remarkable personage. Sir George needed all the tact and finesse for which he is distinguished, to steer his course in the court at Sofia, where so much was to be achieved by the personal favour of the ruler. Bulgaria in those days, was even more turbulent than recent events show it to be to-day; and we have here a mention of what happened when Prince Ferdinand decided to part with his Stambulovist ministry. He chose the Democrats as their successors, and the result of the elections was, in the writer's words, "a complete victory for the new ministry." The Stambulovists, who had been in a majority of two to one in the dissolved chamber, were unrepresented in the new one, whereas the Democrats, who had previously but two representatives in the Parliament, now held 173 out of a total of 203 seats. Clearly the voice of the Prince was the voice of the people, according to constitutional electoral methods in the Bulgaria of those days.

A pleasing recollection is of Queen Victoria. The Queen, incensed at Bismarck's behaviour at the time of the Berlin Memorandum, made a note on a dispatch from Berlin as follows:—Prince Bismarck is treating England as if she were a third-rate Power, and this makes the Queen's blood boil.

A great part of these two volumes deals with Sir George's adventures in Russia from his appointment as Ambassador in St. Petersburg in 1910 up to his departure, enforced by continual ill-health and the pressure of adverse circumstances, in the first days of 1918. There is not very much to be found in the author's memories of Tsarist and Revolutionary Russia that adds to what is already well known about the period. Sir George was, of course, in very close touch with the ill-fated Emperor, and his account of him, tinged with deep respect for his personal character and a certain amount of criticism of his susceptibility to domestic influence, confirms the now accepted judgment of Nicholas II. The descriptions, too, of the Empress and of other members of the court, including the notorious Rasputin, are equally adequate but equally lack any novelty for the student of recent affairs in Russia. When Rasputin telegraphed to the Grand Duke Nicholas Nicolavich that he wished to visit the Front and present the armies with an ikon, the Royal Commander-in-Chief is said to have replied, "You bring it and I will hang," whether the ikon, or the bringer was left to the latter's imagination.

More Poems.

A very limited edition of Emily Bronte's poems is issued by Selwyn and Blount, at 12/6. It is a new edition of delightful verse, delightfully bound. The poems have a music, a vein of thought, and an imagery, that are highly individual. One could identify, with tolerable certainty, a poem as Emily Bronte's by the continual glimpses of moorland scenery, the haunter, the snow lying in the gullies. But there is scarcely one of them that is perfect all through, and they are deficient (for all their wonderful qualities) in the sense of proportion. Almost every poem contains lines or stanzas which may be excised without leaving an apparent gap. Yet Emily Bronte could achieve (though she did not always do so) perfection of form in matters of detail, in the writing of a phrase or a stanza.

"The Best Poems of 1922," edited by T. Moul (Cape, 6/-) is an anthology from English and American magazines or newspapers. The conditions of selection preclude the book from having any distinct unity: it is an anthology only by courtesy. Yet it seems a better and more useful book than many of the recent selections of modern verse. Mr. Moul's taste is catholic, and if he extends his charity to certain modern manifestations which seem to us rather worthless, we gladly put up with a few eccentricities for the sake of getting such old friends as Mrs. Hinkson and Mrs. Laurence Housman, and some lesser-known authors whose poems have no virtues except a lively music or a touching sentiment. The year 1922 produced at least one poem as certain of immortality as any work by a living author, Mr. Hardy's "An Ancient to Ancients": in its weight and dignity it almost overburdens the book which contains nothing in its own way to rival it, and little in other modes which can be put beside it. The best things are, perhaps, Mr. de la Mare's "Horse in a Field," Mr. Squire's "To a Roman," Mr. Colman's "The Poor Girl's Meditation," Mrs. Lynd's "Farwell in February," and Mr. Shanks's "Woman Song."

The Newest Novels.

Ford Madox Ford is a new author, whose first novel, "The Marsden Case," is published by Duckworth, at 7/6. There is a remarkable resemblance in style to the first and last novels of Mr. Ford Madox Hueffer, so that no reviewer can possibly ignore the coincidence. The story is of two Young Pretenders, one of each sex. The boy has the delicate honour which publicity maddens and to which a clamouring for one's own rights is as impossible as a wooden leg to a chorus girl. His sister is "practical," and she and others drive him to the verge of an end so terrible that it is sheer brutality on the author's part to let us think it inevitable. A Home reviewer declares that the occasional people of the story, who never say the thing you would expect of them, and yet turn out in the end not to have uttered one word that is irrelevant to the book's development, are pure Hueffer. Their actions seem improbable enough to cause hysteria; yet you will find that they convey the impression that you know them all (as, in some cases, you all too surely do; only that the author has turned his coloured lights on them, and gets off that way). It is not one of the novels that collect a queue of flappers at Mr. Mudie's counter; but it is characteristic work by one of the few writers of real imagination in this country.

"Restoration," by Ethel Sidgwick (Sidgwick and Jackson, 7/6), is a readable effort. It is all about the countryside, with an exquisite personality, Geraldine, and her son, another well-drawn character, with a farm for the background as well as objective of the plot. Miss Sidgwick has introduced some delicate yet sure touches into this latest book of hers.

Here is a selection of other new seven and sixpenny novels, and one (the last named) at five shillings:—"Lanterns of Horn," by Mr. Evan Nepean (Lane), a tale of Charles II's court; "Mary of Many Loves," by Amy J. Baker (John Long), a story of convincing characters, but inclined to be melodramatic; "Rowena Barnes," by Conal O'Riordan (Collins), is a love story of merit, though not quite up to the author's previous standard; "Encounters," by Elizabeth Bowen (Sidgwick and Jackson), is a collection of very well-written short stories, some truly exquisite.

DENIKIN'S BAGGAGE.

The Mainichi reports that a Russian Volunteer Fleet steamer left Vladivostok for Odessa four years ago with "baggage" belonging to General Denikin. When the ship called at Kobe this baggage was insured with a foreign company for ¥350,000. The ship was lost, and about a year ago the insurance money was paid to a representative of General Denikin. Now another claimant is demanding the money on the General's behalf. According to the Osaka paper, the prefectural authorities are inquiring into the affair.

TWENTY-TWO YEARS AGO.

A Glance at Our Files.

(July 26—Aug. 2, 1901.)

THE NAVAL YARD.

According to Rauter, the scheme for transferring the Naval Yard establishment to the Kowloon side has been knocked on the head by the Admiralty, and the new extensions are to be carried out as originally designed. We do not think that the public will receive this news with satisfaction. What they had hoped for, under Mr. Chater's new reclamation scheme, was a continuous Praya running the whole length of the city front, and also a large reduction of overcrowding, but with the Naval Yard occupying its present position this is impossible. We fancy that the Admiralty cannot have considered the matter as thoroughly as could be wished. Had they done so, we believe that the Naval Yard would have been shifted to Kowloon and the scheme for a continuous Praya would have gone through. Our reasons for this thinking are that it stands to reason that, as time goes on, the Naval Establishment here must be increased, which will necessitate a larger Naval Yard and this will not be obtainable on this side of the harbour without incurring great expense. If the present Yard is to be enlarged it will mean that town lots will have to be purchased at high prices and that the Yard will have to be extended seawards by reclamation. On the other hand, were the Naval Yard established on the Kowloon shore, sufficient land could be taken up at a comparatively low rate to provide for the expansion of the establishment for years to come. Would it not have been better for the Admiralty to have sent out experts to have looked into the question on the spot? Had this been done it would have been easy to have demonstrated the facts as we have put them above, and we think that the decision of the Home Authorities would have been different. But it is little use repining now. It is the system which is at fault, by which persons who have no local knowledge are allowed to decide questions of this nature. The shifting of the Naval Yard might have meant a certain amount of trouble, but it would, we think, have benefited both the Navy and the Colony in the near future. Time will show that we are right in our views.

CIVILIAN CLUB.

We are glad to see the Civilian Club is being pushed ahead and bids fair to take its place amongst the recognised institutions of Hongkong. Started 9 months ago with a membership of 45, it now has over 100 on its roll. The most important thing in a new Club is the financial position and this in "The Civilian" is very satisfactory. In the winter, weekly dances are held, and in the summer smoke socials keep the members in touch. Already the premises are felt to be too small and a more commodious building is being enquired for. Mr. T. Elvine, the courteous Secretary, has all the arrangements complete for the contest between a picked team from the police and one from the members of the Club that meet to-night in the billiard tournament. A dinner and concert is to follow and everything promises to pass off in a manner that will be a credit to the Club and a keen enjoyment to the visiting team.

THEN AS NOW.

Ten per cent. for the half-year is a dividend with which anyone ought to be satisfied and of which the Steamboat Company has good reason to be proud. We note from the report, however, that the West River trade is still in an unsatisfactory condition as ever, and that the boats on that run cannot do more than cover running expenses. When will the British Authorities see, we wonder, that the West River is only open to trade in name, and that the treaty is being interpreted to cut the throats of all owners of foreign vessels? If the British Government intends to go into the question of the treaties it would be well to see that hindrances to trade on the West River are not overlooked.

DR. WU'S ADVICE.

Mr. Wu Ting-fang, Chinese Minister to the United States, addressing the New York State Bankers at Buffalo, urged all Americans, who now do most of their trade in China through European agents, to send American agents, also to establish an American bank in China, for which purpose he particularly recommended a branch at Hongkong.

W. S. BAILEY AND CO. Very few people living in Hongkong are aware of the industry that is growing up under the capable hand of Messrs. Bailey and Murphy, otherwise Messrs. W. S. Bailey and Co. Some fifteen months ago these gentlemen decided to go into the ship building trade. Having just about as much work at the time as they were able to do, they decided to push ahead and do a bit more, and the premises which the party invited to the trial trip of the new water boat were shown over yesterday, are the result of the firm. One is amazed on landing at the many evidences of resource and management. The machine shop is naturally the show place, and there are no better specimens of the output of Great Britain in the engineering line than the long rows of lathes, planing machines, drills etc. Nothing cheap or shoddy, but all of the best, showing it is no idle boast of the firm that their work is the best. They secure the best workmen by the sure way of paying the best wages and looking after comfort. Right thoroughness is apparent, moulding room, foundry, carpenter's shops, fitting shed and store rooms all bearing evidence of the personal supervision of two men who thoroughly know their business. Small wonder then, that Messrs. Bailey & Co. are kept as busy as they can be when other yards are complaining of slackness. As soon as one boat is launched another keel is laid down. There have been fourteen launched from their works in fifteen months, the workmanship on one ensuring an order for another.

EYE COMFORT

means better health and better results from your work, and if your eyes require glasses you should have careful and expert examination in fitting the proper correction. Eye comfort requires also just an expert care in the manufacture and adjustment of your glasses. You will find it worth while to consult a reliable firm devoted exclusively to optical work: over ten years' experience in the colony. You will find no better equipment anywhere than in the office and factory of The Hongkong Optical Co., successors to Clark & Co., manufacturing and refracting opticians, located in 53, Queen's Road Central.

Whatever the spot you may visit,
A mountain or sea-side resort,
If you should remark, "Oh, why is it
That rain interferes with our sport?"
The natives will give you this reason,
As though they were chanting together,
"It's normally dry at this season,
But this is unusual weather!"

And when from the city you're flying
To some "breezy country retreat,"
And find everybody is flying
In almost unbearable heat,
When all of the countryside blazes
With fires of a world that is nether,
You hear this most frequent of phrases,
"It's really unusual weather!"

"It never was this way before."
They say of the heat or the wet,
"We've lived here a lifetime or more,
And this is the worst we've had yet."
The boosters are always inclined
The same sort of bull to untether,
Wherever you go you will find
It's always "unusual weather."

A mere whim of the wind prevented the burning oil which swept into the Allegheny River during an oil blaze at Pittsburgh from destroying one of the main bridges connecting Pittsburgh with the north side industrial section.

SOLDIER AND SAILOR TOO.

Naval Division's Part in the Great War.

Mr. Winston Churchill writes with customary penetration an introduction to a long and detailed history of the achievements of the Royal Naval Division during the war, of which Douglas Jerrold is the author, and Messrs. Hutchinson and Co. the publishers.

"It was a Naval Division. It had different rates of pay; different ranks, different customs, different methods different traditions from those of the British Expeditionary Army. Its officers and men used Naval parlance on every possible occasion. To leave their camps in which the White Ensign flew and bells recorded the passage of time, men requested 'leave to go ashore'; when they returned they 'came aboard,' and when they did not they were reported as 'adrift.' Anchors were steeled on their limbers and emblazoned on their company flags, and their regimental badges were in the form of the crests of the admirals whose names their battalions bore.

"When ill or wounded they attended 'sick bay'; field kitchens were 'the galley'; the King's health was drunk sitting in the ward room—where officers wanting salt are even reported to have been heard asking their neighbours to 'give it a fair wind.' All Wrights were 'Shiners,' and all Clarks were 'Nobys.' Many of the men and some of the officers requested 'leave to grow,' and paraded creditable beards in the faces of a 'clean chinned Army.

THE MILITARY MIND.

"It need scarcely be said that these manifestations inspired in a certain type of military mind feelings of the liveliest alarm.

"Yet these very peculiarities of the Naval Division, this consciousness they had of partnership with the great traditions of the Royal Navy, these odd forms and ceremonies, this special nomenclature, which were cherished and observed so punctiliously by officers and men, few of whom had ever been to sea, were, in fact, the mainstays of their exceptional prowess. It is strange how men deprived of everything that makes for happiness and pleasure in human life, confronted with the cruellest trials, and under the constant menace amounting almost to certainty of death, had comfort and revivifying strength in little things, which to others freed from these circumstances living in an easy and exalted sphere, only appear trivial and perhaps absurd.

The author adds that the Naval Division owed its strength to its originality grounded in traditions alien to regular formations, and that, alike in its qualities and defects it was representative of the stubborn individualism of the English character only moved to active co-operation in the pursuit of a common objective of a great cause, making a secret, if unforgotten, appeal to the latent idealism of our race.

TIGERS IN KOREA.

From Chotan, Keki Province,
the Seoul Press quotes a report that the wife of one Kyong Yong living in Gendori went to work at a water mill at the foot of a mountain with her eight-year-old daughter and five-year-old son and left them to play outside the mill. Suddenly a tiger rushed out of the forest and carried away the son. She was greatly frightened but started a search with the aid of a large number of villagers and finally discovered his head and some bones scattered in the forest.Printed and Published for the Proprietor, by Frederick Parsons Franklin, at 11, Ice House Street, in the City of Victoria Hongkong.
